WHEREAS, for more than 25 years the federal weight limit for trucks using the federal interstate system has been set at 80,000 pounds - a regulation that now challenges the nation's safety, economy, environment, and infrastructure; and

WHEREAS, currently, logging trucks are forced to use city and county rural roads when the federal interstate system would provide a safer and more direct route to area mills, and routing them onto federal interstate highways that are more suitable for this type of traffic, reducing truck miles and the inevitable toll on local city and county roads; and

WHEREAS, the St. Louis County Board of Commissioners wishes to support a request from the Associated Contract Loggers & Truckers of Minnesota (ACLT) to allow logging trucks on the federal interstate system; and

WHEREAS, the proposed federal legislation known as the "Safe & Efficient Transportation Act" will give states the option to safely raise interstate weight limits, without making trucks any larger, by setting interstate weight limits of up to 97,000 pounds for vehicles equipped with an additional sixth axle; and

WHEREAS, Minnesota statute allows for gross vehicle weights of 99,000 pounds, and Congressman Chip Cravaack has introduced the Truck Weight Uniformity Act of 2011 (H.R. 801) in the House of Representatives, which will mirror the Minnesota statute and therefore establish uniformity across county, state, and federal road systems in Minnesota.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, the St. Louis County Board supports the passage of the Truck Weight Uniformity Act of 2011 (H.R. 801), which seeks gross vehicle weights of 99,000 pounds for trucks using federal highways and interstates while transporting raw, unprocessed agricultural and forest products, establishing uniformity across county, state, and federal road systems in Minnesota.
