Spring load restrictions to be lifted for St. Louis County roads in North-Central and North Zones

Spring load restrictions, which have been in place since March 29, will be lifted later this week. Beginning Friday, May 24, 2013, at 12:01 a.m., restrictions that had been placed on paved and unpaved roads will be lifted in the North-Central and North Zones. Some roads may still be individually posted due to their condition. The North-Central Zone includes the area south of US Highway 2 and west of State Highway 33. The North Zone includes the area north of US Highway 2 and east of State Highway 33. Information on zone boundaries can be obtained by following the Seasonal Load Limits link from the Minnesota Department of Transportation's website at www.dot.state.mn.us/materials.

The ending dates for spring load restrictions vary each year based on how weather is affecting roadway strength. These dates are established by monitoring roadway strength as weather conditions change.
