County Board to host public meetings on 2014 budget

The St. Louis County Board will hold two public meetings to receive comments on its 2014 proposed tax levy and operating budget. The first meeting will take place Tuesday, November 26, at 7 p.m. in the Council Chambers of Hibbing City Hall. The second meeting will be Thursday, December 5, at 7 p.m. in the County Board Room on the second floor of the Duluth Courthouse.

Formerly known as the Truth in Taxation hearing, the meeting's name was changed in compliance with state statute. But the purpose remains the same – to allow the public the opportunity to learn more about the proposed budget and property tax levy, ask questions and provide feedback.

The County Board in September set the maximum levy at $113,344,211 – a 1.5 percent increase over 2013. The Board is scheduled to vote on the final levy and budget at its December 17 meeting, which will be held in the Morse Town Hall.

For more information about the public meeting on the 2014 budget or any other County Board matter, please call 218-726-2450 or visit stlouiscountymn.gov.
