Auditor's Office announces two new hires

Two key positions within the St. Louis County Auditor's Office are now filled – one through a promotion, the other a new hire.

Phil Chapman has been named to the dual role of Clerk of the County Board and Elections Supervisor. In that position, he is responsible for administering records of official County Board proceedings, as well as organizing and directing the public elections process. Chapman had served in that role on an interim basis for several months. Prior to that, Chapman worked as the supervisor of the Auditor's Service Center, including during its relocation at the Miller Hill Mall. Chapman is a graduate of the University of Minnesota – Duluth, with a degree in economics. He has nearly 20 years of experience in banking and management roles.

Ben Martin has been hired as the new Service Center Supervisor. Martin manages the retail operations and staff, overseeing vehicle and driver's licensing services, passports, property tax services and other transactions. Martin previously was the branch manager of G & K Services in Duluth. A native of Parkers Prairie, Minnesota, he holds a degree in business from the University of Minnesota – Duluth.

St. Louis County employs approximately 1,700 people to serve its more than 200,000 residents spread across 7,000 square miles. To learn more about the work of the Auditor's Office and Auditor's Service Center, visit stlouiscountymn.gov/auditor.
