Gardening at the Library

Ready to get your hands dirty? Or at least, your gardening gloves? This year, Extension Master Gardeners are offering free classes covering a variety of home gardening topics at the Mt. Royal and West Duluth libraries. Most classes are in the evenings, but a special program for children in June will be offered during the day.

Presented by the Saint Louis County Extension Master Gardeners in cooperation with The Duluth Public Library. The mission of the St. Louis County Extension Master Gardeners is to share research based horticultural information with the public.
