FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Benjamin Stromberg has been named head of the Public Health and Human Services Division of the St. Louis County Attorney's Office, County Attorney Mark Rubin said.

Stromberg has worked as an assistant county attorney in the division for eleven years. He focused primarily on child protection, paternity cases, and child support enforcement matters with additional responsibilities related to civil commitments and administrative matters.

The Rochester, Minn., native graduated from the University of Minnesota, Duluth in 1995 with majors in political science and international studies, and earned his law degree from the University of Minnesota Law School in 2001.

Before joining the county attorney's office, Stromberg served more than two years as a law clerk for 6th Judicial District Judge Gerald Martin, now retired.
